

HEAVY DAMAGES GIVEN AGAINST C. & C. RAILWAY

Alvin Padgett Sells $7,500 for Loss of a Leg—Circuit Court Adjudges for November Term

Circuit court adjourned for the November term Thursday. Judge Hardin goes to Lancaster for the beginning of the Garrard court on Monday with the satisfaction of knowing that he has gotten the local docket in good shape. Much litigation was disposed of at the recent session, in one form or another.

Hon. E. V. Puryear, of Danville, the newly elected Commonwealth's Attorney for this district, has received his commission, and will begin his duties on Lancaster Monday. A large number of cases were disposed of during the term. The only murder case on the docket was that of John Henry charged with killing Operator James Engleman at King's Mountain and he was dismissed. Unless a homicide should occur in the county between now and February term, there will be only one case of the kind to be tried then; that of John Dishon for killing Melvin Kidd at Crab Orchard last week. Dishon, at first thought to be fatally shot himself, but from reports from his bedside it seems now that he will recover. A coroner's jury exonerated Dishon when it held an inquest over Kidd's body, but this does not necessarily acquit Dishon.

Wednesday afternoon and Thursday were taken up with the suit of Alvin Padgett against the C. & C. & T. P. Railway Company for $20,000 damages for the loss of his right limb while employed by the company. Padgett was one of a number of workmen employed in the construction of a concrete bridge near Lexington in July, 1911. A bucket containing a quantity of tar and rags had been set on fire near the work car by the foreman for the purpose of driving off mosquitoes, and Padgett was passing by this bucket when a terrific explosion occurred.

Upon investigation, it was found that the bucket contained a quantity of dynamite which was the cause of the explosion and as a result to which plaintiff lost his leg.

The company resisted the suit on the ground that Padgett was warned by the foreman of the construction gang not to approach the bucket, as it contained dynamite, and that he had obeyed the warning he would not have been injured. The plaintiff admitted that he received the warning, but declared it came too late to enable him to reach a place of safety.

The case went to the jury about one o'clock, and after an hour's deliberation, it returned a verdict of $7,500 for Padgett. Attorneys Alcorn and Alcorn represented the railroad and Robert Harding, Danville, and George D. Florence, of Stanford, appeared for the plaintiff. Padgett is a son of Latham Padgett and lives with his father in the Waynesburg section of the county.

At the close of the Padgett trial Judge Hardin dismissed all the juries after thanking them for their services and finally adjourned court.

The grand jury for the November term of the Lincoln circuit court finished its labors Wednesday afternoon and was finally dismissed by Judge Hardin after he had thanked them for their efficient service.

They returned 64 indictments for various offenses, a number of them being tried at the present term of court. Those rendered and to be tried later are as follows: For housebreaking, 2; for assault and battery, 3; for disturbing religious worship, 2; for illegally converting property belonging to another, 1; for breach of the peace, 4; for unlawfully killing cattle of another, 1; for carrying concealed weapons, 1; for pointing a pistol at another, 3; for shooting and wounding, 2; for gaming, 1; for false swearing, 1; for illegal sale of whisky, 2. This is the smallest number of indictments brought in a number of years in this court for illegal whisky selling, which shows that the very objectionable character that formerly infested Stanford and vicinity has either outgrown the nefarious business or has hid himself to a more congenial clime. The jury made no report as to the condition of the jail, courthouse, etc., which of itself shows that every thing is in good order.

Tuesday and nearly all of Wednesday was taken up with the case of M. D. Carson against the C. & C. & T. P. railway for $2,000. The plaintiff had bought a ticket from the agent at Moreland to go to the Somerset fair and attempted to return on it under the belief that it was still good. The conductor refused to allow him to ride on it on the ground that the time had expired and forced Carson to get off the train. Later in the day he was offered a ticket home but declined it and brought suit against the company for the above amount. The case was given the jury Wednesday morning and it returned a verdict favorable to the company.

Boy Badly Cut By Playmate

Preachersville, Nov. 21.—While two youths, Willie C. White and Calvin Boone, were pranking with an open knife the other day, the former was severely cut on the little finger of his left hand. Young Boone playfully put the cutting edge of the blade against the throat of young White, who struck against the knife with his open hand with the above result. The wound has been quite painful and a physician is attending the unlucky finger, which it is hoped will soon be well.

The mumps, which have been prevalent here for some time, are getting to be epidemic. Four or five inmates, in several homes are all tied up like mummies. The most common-labeled, wanner-jawed, who always had a face like a hatchet, since becoming the possessors of this juvenile malady, are now candidates for a beauty prize.

Yours truly has had the time of his life but don't care for a repetition of same.

We spent a Saturday afternoon in Broadhead recently and were present at a china drawing contest at the store of A. E. Albright. Each Saturday afternoon he gives away a nice set of dishes. About 200 people were present. Mr. Shively, a resident of that place, held the lucky number and carried home the china.

Master William Blankenship the only pupil who had not missed a single day of school here this term, fell out of the ranks Wednesday morning with a bad case of mumps.

Tell Col. Thos. Benson the Bull Moose was not deborned in Lincoln but its horns are growing larger daily.

ROBINSON—HOPPER

Stanford Young Man Wins Charming Bride at Mt. Sterling.

The following account of the wedding of Prof. Walter O. Hopper and Miss Garnette Robinson, of Mt. Sterling, is reprinted from the Mt. Sterling Gazette. Prof. Hopper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Hopper, of this city, and one of the finest young men ever reared in Lincoln. His host of local friends will extend congratulations and best wishes. The Mt. Sterling paper said:

Miss Garnette Robinson and Mr. Walter O. Hopper were quietly married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Jennie Robinson, on West High street, yesterday afternoon in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the couple and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Porter of Lexington, and Rev. W. H. Hopper, of Burnside, a brother of the groom. The beautiful old home was tastefully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being carried out in green and white, with a profusion of chrysanthemums and potted plants, lending a happy but appropriate contrast to the solemn event. There were no attendants, the ceremony being performed in a simple manner in the parlor amid suggestive arrangements. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue and carried the bride's roses. Immediately afterward the happy couple left on the 3:47 train for a short bridal trip to the south after which they will be at home at 22 West Main street.

The wedding is of wide interest all over this section where the contracting parties are well known and popular. Mr. Hopper is Superintendent of the Mt. Sterling Public Schools and regarded as one of the foremost young educators in the state. He is a graduate of Central University and since coming to this city a few years ago has earned the admiration and respect of the entire community by his splendid abilities and gentlemanly qualities. He is a native of Lincoln county and a member of a prominent Kentucky family.

His bride is one of the most popular young ladies in this section and well known in Blue Grass social circles. She is handsome and attractive and possesses a charming personality, combined with an indefinable refinement of manner, characteristic of the Southern girl. To each both are admirably suited and the congratulations and well wishes of a host of admiring friends are being showered upon them.

The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Rev. W. H. Hopper, of Burnside; Messrs. Geo. and Joseph Hopper, of Danville, brothers of the groom, and his sister, Miss Margaret Hopper, of Stanford.

We learn that Dr. Laswell, of King's Mountain, is preparing to move to Mt. Vernon, leaving only one physician, Dr. C. M. Thompson to practice in this vicinity. We therefore suggest that Highland would be a good location for a physician.

Mr. H. F. Horton has gone to Detroit, Mich. in search of employment.

Mr. Logan Carrier and Miss May Bastin were married last week at King's Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Surber who have been near Greencastle, Ind. for a year, are here visiting friends.

Mr. Barnes is a son of the late Rev. George O. Barnes. The bride has been making her home in Sanibel Island, Fla. for several years. ## Middleburg

Evangelist Barnes, of Prestonburg, is holding revival services at the Baptist church at Liberty. He has been employed by the executive board of the South Kentucky Association to evangelize the district and he is beginning his work at Liberty. He is said to be quite a pleasing talker.

Bird hunters are finding mighty poor "pickin'". The quail crop is said to be the shortest known. Many farms, where they are usually very plentiful not a single bird can be found.

A young peoples' society has been organized at the Baptist church with Will Tapscott, as president.

W. T. Coulter, one of the best road overseers in the country has put his section of the road, which runs through town in fine shape for winter. He also had the contract for putting in three bridges and deserves especial mention, for the good work done. He has now the contract for putting gravel on the pike from J. C. Curtis to the Lincoln line and will begin the work in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Swone, of Marksburg, Garrard county, visited their daughter, Mrs. W. T. Dye last week. They usually come down and attend the protracted meeting at the Baptist church, but were prevented from doing so this year by illness of Mrs. Swone.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Moore, who live on the Liberty pike, was badly burned Saturday night. She was in the house, while she went to the mail box on returning found the little girl wrapped in flames. A bucket of water happened by handy, otherwise it would likely have been burned to a crisp.

The scramble for the post office here and at Yosemite is on and the applicants are getting busy. W. C. Bryant is the only applicant here as yet, but there will likely be others. At Yosemite there are some half dozen or more that would not object to licking stamps for Woodrow Wilson during his four years of administration. Among those mentioned are Jess T. Short, Miss Jessie Lawhorn, J. R. Wilson and T. S. Benson and there are others, who would not imitate the boy-steer performance should the position be offered them. Some of the Republicans are trying to make believe that there will be no changes but they will be taught a different lesson.

Tom Gooch, the turkey man, was here last week receiving Thanksgiving turkeys. C. T. Lester bought some 300 fine ones from parties along the Liberty pike.

WARM ARGUMENT

Among Horsemen as to Which is Champion of the Year.

An interesting controversy is on in the horse papers over the question as to which is the champion show horse of the year. P. W. Ray, of Bowling Green, writing in the Farmer's Home Journal, made extravagant claims for his great horse My Major Dare. Mat Cohen immediately took up the gauntlet on behalf of the great black stallion Kentucky's Choice in the last number of the same paper and writes a letter which is of interest to horsemen of this country. He says:

In your issue of November 9th under the heading of "Horse Notes from the Pennyrile," there appeared, over the signature of Mr. P. W. Ray, an article so broad in its scope, so unfounded with facts, and so filled with erroneous statements that I can not refrain from answering.

Mr. Ray claims the champion saddle stallion of 1912, and claims that more real money was refused for My Major Dare than was ever given for any saddle stallion, and goes on with a proposition that he is willing to put up $500 a corner and let the owners of Kentucky Choice, Nickle Plate, Astral King, Missouri King and Hazel Dawn enter the jack pot, the winner to take all, and what the International offers, go to the second and third horses.

This looks good, on paper, reads like Mr. Ray had the very best of all saddlers, that he is simply overflowing with a desire to have them all meet, and in case the owners of the above named horses do not come forward with an acceptance, he can say to the public "They are afraid of Major Dare."

In the first place, Major Dare can not be called the champion of 1912, even if he did defeat the horse that defeated Kentucky Choice, for the records show that Choice and Major met at Lancaster fair in July twice, Choice winning first both times, while in the last show at that fair Choice was first, Bourbon Star second and Major Dare third.

The next week they met at Harrodsburg, fair with Choice first and Major second, the same resulted at Danville, for the following week, after which they did not meet until at State fair, where they met in the $1,000 stake, where Hazel Dawn was first, Nickle Plate was second, Mary Vandell for third and Choice fourth, with the Major listed with the "also tanks." That was the last meeting of Choice and Major, and how Mr. Ray can claim the title of "Champion" when Kentucky Choice defeated Major every time they met this year, is beyond my comprehension.

As to refusing more real money for the Major than was ever given for a saddle stallion, naming $5,000 as the amount is untrue and Mr. Ray knows it, for he knows that Choice was bought by me, for a company composed of Mrs. R. T. Lowndes Jr., Danville, Ky., James L. Gay, Pisgah, Ky., and Henry Cullens of Lexington Ky., for $7,000 in real, cash money and for Mr. Ray's advice and information, I wish to say that I sold him to Mrs. Lowndes for the sum of $8,450, cash, and do not think now that he was over half sold.

Regarding the challenge of $500 per corner, Mr. Ray knew when he made that "crack" that Kentucky Choice had been turned out, his shoes taken off, and that it would be impossible to get him ready for another show this year. Mr. Ray also knew that Nickle Plate had been sold and shipped to Miss Artbury, New York City, N. Y. to be shown in the three gaited classes at the Garden, which makes him an "impossible," while as for Astral King and Hazel Dawn, the former is retired from the show ring, with the latter resting on her laurels.

It is not my aim, or desire to pluck from the crown of Major Dare, a single flower, but I can not stand for such charges, and challenges when the whole thing simmers down to only a bluff, but, if Mr. Ray is as anxious as he seems, I'll bet him $1000 and put up $500 now, the remaining $500 the night before the show, and have a two horse show between Kentucky Choice and Major Dare, either at State Fair, of Blue Grass Fair, 1913, (before judges elected by the association at which we show), the winner to take all, and I'll go even further, and will give my winnings to any charitable institution selected by the Association.

If Mr. Ray thinks this a bluff, let him place in the hands of the Farmers Home Journal a certified check for $500, advising me of same, and I'll promise to have my certified cheque for same amount within 24 hours after I have received such notice.

Again Mr. Ray states incorrectly when he says that Missouri King has two blues on Kentucky Choice, as we only met four times this year, twice at Kansas City, American Royal Show, when Choice was placed first each time, Missouri King second, while at Smithville, Mo., Missouri King was 1st, Choice 2d, only meeting once, which is true regarding the St. Louis Horse Show, when Mr. Ray declared openly, without choice of words, that the decision was a shame, and that Kentuckians should never exhibit in Missouri in the five gaited classes when the judges, a majority of them, were from Missouri. Very truly yours, MAT S. COHEN.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW ENFORCED HERE

East End Parent Fined in County Court for Violating Act—First Offense in This County

The first trial held in Lincoln county for violation of the Compulsory Educational Law was had in County Judge J. P. Bailey's court Thursday morning. The defendant in the case was D. V. Holmes, of the East End of the county. Superintendent of Schools Garland Singleton had information that Holmes the nine-year-old son of Mr. Holmes was not in school and began an investigation. As it was the parent's first offense, Judge Bailey gave him the lowest fine, $5. For the second offense the law provides a heavier penalty, and it might be well for parents to keep well informed on this law and to see to it that their children are kept constantly in school. Superintendent Singleton is determined to see that the law is enforced and is in constant touch with every school under his supervision. He says that the compulsory act is the best law upon the statute books relating to schools and that since its adoption, the enrollment has materially increased in every school in Lincoln county. He makes the rounds nearly every week and is exerting every energy to see that the law is obeyed.

Looks Bad For Bell.

Charles W. Bell, who was State Insurance Commissioner, under the Wilson republican administration in Kentucky, was given a fearful grilling by the report of the State Inspector and Examiner which has just completed an examination of his department. The Inspector finds there is due the state for fees and licenses and tax on premiums $20,730.77, of which $15,311.28 is due on fees and premiums and $5,422.43 in the 2 per cent. license tax. He reports that there should have been $201,514.79 collected for fees and licenses and $186,203.51 are accounted for. The report does not attempt to say whether the $20,730.77 was collected from the insurance companies, but states that the companies were doing business in the State, the fees, the licenses and tax were due, and the money should be accounted for to the State, but declared that, inasmuch as the commissioner was directly chargeable with these collections, and had ample authority to enforce them, he should be held liable for the amount due the State, whether he or some one else was directly in charge of the collections. He said the books were in bad condition and the reports showed "a carelessness, ports to the auditor were inaccurate, and disregard of both legal and moral responsibility that was appalling."
